

Speaker: Agnes Attakai, MPA Dine (Navajo) Nation Director

Agnes Attakai, MPA, a member of the Dine (Navajo) Nation, was raised on both the Dine homelands in Arizona and the urban California suburbs. She currently works as the Director of Health Disparities Outreach and Prevention Education for the Center for Rural Health at the University of Arizona Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health. Agnes has a Master of Public Administration degree and a Public Health Training Certificate for American Indian Health Professionals from Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health. Agnes engages and collaborates with Tribal Nations and underserved communities in Arizona to reduce health disparities and promote health equity. She has a broad background in community health, public health education, health communication, health promotion/disease engagement, and STEM mentoring specifically in rural/frontier American Indian communities.

UAHS EDI SPEAKER SERIES

COUNTRY ROAD TAKE ME HOME: Native American Diaspora and Health

Please join Agnes as she talks about the lasting health effects of urban relocation programs on American Indians and growing up in the nexus of Route 66, California suburbs and Navajo reservation.

JOIN OUR VIRTUAL EVENT

November 8, 2023 at 12 PM

Registration:

<https://tinyurl.com/3j4s8mv9>

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA HEALTH SCIENCES

Equity, Diversity & Inclusion