DEPARTMENT OF SURGERY WELCOMES NEW CLINICAL ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, DR. PRAVEEN SRIDHAR

Praveen Sridhar MD, joins the Department of Surgery as Clinical Assistant Professor in the Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery.

The University of Arizona College of Medicine – Tucson Department of Surgery is pleased to welcome Praveen Sridhar, MD, as a clinical associate professor in the Department of Surgery’s Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery.

Dr. Sridhar completed his undergraduate and medical education at Boston University. He then completed surgical internship at the Medical College of Virginia/Virginia Commonwealth University Health System and a surgical residency at Boston Medical Center. He also completed a two-year research fellowship during his surgical training focusing on studying methods of detection and amplification of circulating tumor DNA in solid tumors as well as studying therapeutic targets for triple negative breast cancer.

Following the completion of General Surgery residency, he completed a two-year fellowship in Cardiothoracic Surgery at the University of Utah prior to joining as faculty in the Department of Surgery at the University of Arizona.

He is excited to serve Tucson and the neighboring communities, and is particularly interested in thoracic oncology and minimally invasive thoracic surgery.
