Jeffrey A. Norton, M.D. is the Robert L. and Mary Ellenburg Professor of Surgery. Dr. Norton is an expert on endocrine and upper gastrointestinal cancer. He has published numerous papers on these diseases especially on the surgical management of gastric cancer and pancreatic endocrine tumors. His laboratory effort is focused on Cancer Associated Fibroblasts (CAF) in pancreas cancer and anti-CAF therapy plus IL-12. He has several on going multi-department human clinical protocols for the treatment of pancreatic cancer and hereditary diffuse gastric cancer.

Wednesday, August 24, 2022
8 a.m. - 9 a.m. Arizona Time
College of Medicine - Tucson Room 5403

Stream Live:
https://streaming.biocom.arizona.edu/streaming/30007/event

CAMS code: 123435